I / We hereby acknowledge and understand the following risk disclosure of placing US market orders and operation of US market orders:

Risk Disclosure on US Market Orders

Since an US market order does not specify a bid / ask price, the execution price received on a market order is unpredictable and may be significantly different from i) the price quoted at the time of order entry or ii) bid / ask spread or iii) last reported price due to (but not limited to):

- a) Fast Market (Stock Price is volatile)
- b) Trading volume in particular stock is low
- c) Bid / Ask Spread of particular stock is large

Operation of placing US market orders via UOB Kay Hian (Hong Kong) Limited

In order to prevent extreme executed price of market orders:

- 1) Only the shares that are on our marginable list is only allowed to place market orders
- 2) When placing buy market orders, the account must have a positive good fund (for cash account) or fund available (for margin account) of at least 120% of the fund required for the order. The fund required will make reference to the previous closing price of the securities. Nevertheless, please note that the executed consideration will still be possible to exceed 120% of the fund required for the order due to volatile or thin market condition.
